SUMMARY

I am a Computer Engineering student at Istanbul Biruni University, fluent in English, Turkish, and Persian (Farsi). I work with Java, front-end technologies such as HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, and have experience with SQL databases. I have completed projects in mobile application development with Flutter, bot development with Python, and web API development using ASP.NET Core. I aim to advance my career in the fields of artificial intelligence and web development. Beyond engineering, I am a violinist who finds balance and inspiration through music.
